

Janet Loveless

Janet calls Marlow, Oklahoma her home, but her paintings represent experiences she has had in her travels throughout the world.

“In the past few years, I’ve had the privilege to travel throughout most of the US, Canada & several European countries. I visited museums of known artists where I was able to observe & study their original works, as well as painting en plein air.”

Janet’s education has been from a variety of local, state and national artists’ workshops, and she has studied under artists Laura Greenier, Juanita Gleghorn,

Susan Jones, Judy McCombs, Gay Faulkenbury, as well as David Leffel, Ben Konis, Leonard Wren, Jim Wilcox, David Wade & Luke Frazier.

Sharing her talents with others, Janet has taught youths the elements of drawing, pastel & watercolor. She enjoys the opportunity to share & inspire them. Several of her students have gone on to major in art.
