

Steve Reyes

There is mystery about beauty...whether it is embodied in women, flowers, landscapes or wildlife that keeps it always elusive, ambiguous, tantalizing.

As an artist I try to paint that beauty, the unanswered questions, to provide a way into that beauty for the viewer. The viewer can find their own answers, their own mystery, their own beauty.

When this effable personal connection is made, it is then that I feel my work as an artist is completed.
